According to Bill Sampson of the Registration Office about 120 people will be employed by just the Registration Office alone to assist students. This does not include the faculty and staff in the West Annex of the Fieldhouse advising and handing out cards. Nor does it include cashiers, security and housing officials all of whom will be busy during the two day period.

Registration officials hope that the pre-registration program initiated this semester will greatly speed the process. Pre-payment of tuition and fees will enable many students to register in record time.

book of collegiate fads a world record Saturday night, as they hammered out in 30 hours and 57 minutes—three minutes shy of their 60-hour deadline—a spy novel in a showcase of Clark's Store, downtown Provo.

Dennis Berrett and Jaron Summers, Daily Universe editor and managing editor are the co-authors of "The Mind Game." Their instant novel of 254 pages includes 14 chapters and approximately 71,120 words, according to Berrett.

The novel was the BYU answer to the goldfish-swallowing, telephone-booth-packing collegiate fads. "We felt this would be a constructive college fad and we want to challenge the other colleges," said Berrett, "but we also have intentions of publishing the novel."

The two began the escapade as a passing thought last Monday. But by Wednesday they were ready for action. Setting up the project through a Daily Universe advertising salesman, the two wrote a plot outline at midnight Wednesday and were in Clark's showcase by Thursday at 8:15 a.m., with lunch and supper contributed by Heaps of Pizza and Der Wiener-schnitzel.

Plans to keep the work constantly moving stipulated regular four-hour shifts; one to sleep, the other to type and both attempt to produce four pages per hour of work. Eventually the schedule was soon

CHICAGO—Brigham Young University's basketballers put on a dogged, comeback performance against defending NCAA champion Texas Western Saturday night, but were unable to overcome a huge early lead piled up by the quick and strong Miners.

TITLISTS MATCHED

The contest, won 85-76 by Texas Western, matched the NCAA titlists of last year against the reigning National Invitational Champion Cougars.

It was the first game of an outstanding tripleheader at Chicago Stadium.

In the two preceding outings, Lew Alcinder ranked 35 points in leading UCLA to its 15th straight victory as the Bruins downed a game Loyola quintet, 82-67, and Notre Dame defeated Illinois, 90-75.

COLD AND CHAOTIC

Against the nationally-rated Miners, who are undefeated on the road this season and now boast a 15-2 record, the BYU offense was almost as cold and chaotic as the Chicago weather during the first half.

(Editor's Note: Pg. 1, Column Two) will be the official Vietnam correspondent for the Daily Universe throughout the rest of the year and will regularly weekly column relating the personal feelings and reactions about the American war and the people of Vietnam. He is a member of the staff and was formerly a staff member of the Daily Universe as a sports writer.)

by PFC F. Gary Jacobson

"Please God, let me come home to my family and friends in Ohio; and please let Linda love me forever and ever," is the statement of an anonymous soldier which can be found among the many signatures that cover the walls of building 590 at the Oakland Army terminal, and reflects one of the many varied moods of soldiers billeted there.

Building 590 is a warehouse type structure of large proportions with row upon row of bunks, and a couple of TV rooms, where Viet Nam bound soldiers are restricted for their last 24 hours before shipment to Southeast Asia.

The Oakland Army terminal ships out an average of 700 men daily to augment U.S. forces in Viet Nam, and in building 590 the men are given 24 hours to themselves to ponder and reflect.

SHOW MANY THINGS

The statements on the wall show many things. Faith, courage, bravado, humility, fear, hate, pride, and patriotism are all depicted here by men who are spending their last few hours on American soil.

Few men know what lies ahead for them, but in this time of anxiety the majority turn to God asking for deliverance. "Please God, let me come home to my wife and home, God's speed and good luck to all" is the plea of one GI. Another fearful but willing GI states simply, "Well, here I am on my way. All I can say is maybe someday, if God is willing, I will see my darling wife again. I hope the same for everyone. May God bless you—Viet Nam bound."

SHOW COURAGE

Some show a high degree of courage and dedication to the job at hand, saying, "wherever there is an injustice let me be there to try to rectify it," and the age old sentiment, "Ours is not to reason why—ours is but to do and die."

Many hide their fears and silent thoughts behind humor and bravado, like the soldier who comments, "I am one of the Viet Cong for lunch bunch," and, "Join the Army and see the world," or "Visit the Viet Cong A-go-go—where the action is."

The men here know they are in for a rough time, and that much personal sacrifice and perhaps life itself is on the line, but in one soldiers statement lies the key in the simple formula, "19 years of heaven—2 years of hell." These men realize, and are grateful for, the good life which God has given them, and though fearful of the consequence, are ready to fight to protect this American way of life for their children.

LAST MOMENTS

For the men in building 590, these last few moments are dramatic ones, and the moods are varied. A few write letters home, others sit in deep meditation, while some drown their thoughts in the thick folds of sleep. Some brave and good men cry, and strong men pray, as some can be seen with bowed heads and holding rosaries, making the sign of the cross, or simply talking silently to God, each in his own fashion.

Some men move around constantly, almost as if afraid to stop and think. A group of soul brothers listen to a jazzy record on a battery powered record player in the corner, and numerous radios help to break the silence. A few goupes gather to tell jokes or war stories, but all in all it is a time for truth when man is forced to face reality.

Above all else here on the wall, the expression denoting we will do what has to be done there, and we will return. A passage taken from scripture and placed there by a soldiers hand seemed to stand out from all the rest on the wall. Its message: "This too, shall pass."

MANY IN

Between one and two thousand transient soldiers occupy the Oakland Army terminal processing and awaiting shipment to Bangkok, Thailand, Japan, The Philippines, Guam, Hawaii, Okinawa, Wake, Taiwan, and the majority, about 85%, to Viet Nam.

Shipment is generally by air, and sometimes by boat. My personal flight to Viet Nam took twenty hours, in addition to stops at Wake and the Philippines, but it takes 28 days for those going by boat. Most GI's coming to Oakland don't get much of a chance to look around, as the average Joe is shipped over having spent no longer than two days at Oakland.

I have been assigned to an infantry unit of the first Air Cavalry presently fighting in Phan Thiet, and in this and future columns I hope to be able to portray the moods and feelings of the American fighting man and to picture in your minds some of the obstacles that confront him. I also hope to inform you of some of the cultures and habits of the Vietnamese people and their constant struggle against the encroaching Communist forces from the North.

The war in Viet Nam has long been a debatable issue from many points of view, and I welcome any thoughts or questions that you might have, for these will give me the proper feedback needed that I may formulate the subjects of this column in accordance with what you want to know. My address: PFC F. Gary Jacobson; US55, Francisco, 96490.

Academic Standards Modified

A change in the rules regarding suspension from BYU to be effective during the new semester has been announced by the University Administration.

They say: "Until this semester the requirements regarding academic suspension at Brigham Young University have been the following:

"Suspension: A student will be suspended from the University if at the end of any probationary semester his cumulative record at BYU shows a shortage of 12.00 points from that (17.00 for the first 31 semester hours and 2.00 for all remaining hours), and his current semester grade average is also deficient."

Students who are on academic probation and fail to make improvement of 4.00 grade points during each of their probationary semesters will be suspended from school regardless of their grade-point shortage.

"The modification for the student who loses enrollment privileges is as follows: All students who are 'dropped for low scholarship' will be required to obtain a 2.50 grade-point average on preparatory work rather than 2.00 grade-point average as has been true in the past."

"Therefore, a student qualifying for readmission by home study (or correspondence courses) will need to maintain a C-+ or 2.50 grade average on ten credit hours. The student will be allowed to do a grade-point average by attending another institution of higher learning will be expected to carry an average load of 15 semester credit hours while maintaining a minimum of C+ or 2.50 grade-point average."

Film Of BYU History To Premiere

The world premiere of a film about the history and development of BYU will take place tonight at 7:30 in the Wilkinson Center main ballroom.

"The Spirit of the Y" was produced by the BYU Motion Picture Dept. and Judge W. O. Whitaker and Richard Bickerton who headed production of the film will especially be honored at the premiere. All students and faculty are invited to the opening, and there will be no admission charge.

Scholarships Available To Male Students

Fourteen $750 Edwin Smith Hinckley scholarships are available to BYU male undergraduates for the 1967-68 academic year, announced Bruce L. Olsen, chairman of the Undergraduate Scholarship Committee.

Application forms may be obtained from the Undergraduate Scholarship Office, B-183 Smoot Administration Bldg. They must be submitted to the Undergraduate Scholarship Committee by February 3, 1967, said Olsen.

He said the applicants should demonstrate proficiency in studies, high academic standing and qualities of leadership in school, church and community affairs.

Delta Phi Kappa Dream Girl Crowned Friday

Tayna Palmer, a 21-year-old junior from Preston, Idaho, was crowned Delta Phi Kappa Dream Girl Friday at the Utah State Capitol.

A clothing and textiles major, Tayna is a dance director in her BYU ward and has been chosen Miss Franklin County in her home state.

Chosen first attendant was Diane Cook, a sophomore in CDFR from Fountain Green, Utah. Helen Castleton, a sophomore elementary education major from Malad, Idaho, was chosen second attendant.

As the six finalists were introduced, they were escorted down the marble stairs of the capitol rotunda where the members of Delta Phi sang their dream girl song to them.

Tayna, who is a member of the junior house of representatives, and her attendants will represent the fraternity at campus activities during the coming year.

Church Official Announces Appointments

Two men have been named assistants to William E. Berrett, administrator of the seminaries of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The appointment of Dr. Wendell O. Rich and Dr. J. Marvin Higbee was announced last Friday by Dr. Harvey L. Taylor, administrator of the LDS Church schools.

According to Dr. Berrett, the appointees will work in the LDS Student Association, under the leadership of Paul H. Dunn of the First Council of Seventy of the LDS Church.

Dr. Rich will serve as the association's executive secretary, while Dr. Higbee will be its field secretary.

Both men have been active in church and public school activities. Rich, a graduate of Utah State University at Logan, was recently released as director of the LDS institute there.

Higbee, a BYU graduate, has been principal of the Grantsville, Utah, seminary.

Aerospace Team To Stage Presentation

The Aerospace Presentations Team from Air University at Maxwell AFB, Ala., will stage a dramatic program at BYU Friday at 9 a.m. in the Varsity Theater.

The presentation will concentrate on the U.S. space program for 1967, featuring slides and motion pictures. Topics covered will be propulsion, spacecraft, interplanetary probes and places for moon landing.

Now in its third year as a full-time operation, the Air University team makes hundreds of aerospace lectures annually to educational, civic and scientific groups throughout the nation. Last year, team members made 356 stage, radio and television appearances and received the Air Force Association's top award, the Hoyt S. Vandenberg Trophy for "distinguished service to the nation in the field of aerospace education."

The presentation outlines the joint roles of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Dept. of Defense in space exploration. Team members will discuss their visits with the astronauts, their inspection of Mercury, Apollo and Gemini capsules and their experience in operating space-craft simulators.

The aerospace story to be presented points up the fact that America's space effort is directed toward insuring peace. It explains the major requirements and problems involved in space travel now and in the future.

The first briefing of this kind started less than five years ago, when the Pentagon directed Air University and its colleges of higher education for selected Air Force officers to take the aerospace message to the American people.

The briefing is open to the public.

BYU Professors Do Church Story

Drs. James Allen and Richard Cowan, BYU professors, co-authors of "Mormonism in the 20th Century," a text used in some history classes, have started work on another book covering the history of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints during the last 65 years.

They believe that not enough is known about the Church in the twentieth century and that people don't understand today's problems. The book will explain the Church's growth, administration, missionary programs and the political climate. Dr. Cowan had a research grant from Brigham Young University to work on missionary activities in South America in the 20th century. He will apply this research to the book.

Both men are members of the newly formed Mormon History Association, composed of Mormon and non-Mormon scholars.

Dr. Allen is associate professor of history and Dr. Cowan is assistant professor of History of Religion.

The directory contains the name, address, phone number, home town and year in school for all students registered full-time during fall semester.

A limited number of each were held until spring semester for new students. Bookstore officials explained.

Last year, thousands of lawyers, bankers, accountants, engineers, doctors and businessmen went back to college.

And not just for the football games.

We'd like to clear up what appears to be a misunderstanding. It is somewhat popular on campus to deify a business career on the grounds that you stop learning once you start working for Cliché Nuts & Bolts.

That idea is groundless.

We can't speak for Cliché, but we can for ourselves—Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, 6 out of 10 college graduates who have joined us over the past 10 years, for example, have continued their higher education.

How're these for openers:

W.E.'s Tuition Refund Plan lets employees pursue degrees while working for us. Over 6 thousand have attended schools in 41 states under this plan. We refund more than $1 million in tuition costs to employees a year.

To name another program: advanced engineering study, under the direction of Lehigh University, is conducted at our Engineering Research Center in Princeton, N. J. Selected employees are sent there from all over the country for a year's concentrated study leading to a master's degree.

You get the idea. We're for more learning in our business. After all, Western Electric doesn't make buggy whips. We make advanced communications equipment. And the Bell telephone network will need even more sophisticated devices by the time your fifth reunion rolls around. The state of the art, never static, is where the action is.

At Western Electric, what's happening is the excitement and satisfaction of continued doing and learning. If this happens to appeal to you, no matter what degree you're aiming for, check us out. And grab a piece of the action.

WAC Loop Near End?

DENVER (UPI) — When two of the six Western Athletic Conference college presidents turned thumbs down on expansion last Monday in Denver, they may have thumbed the conference out of existence.

That theory was advanced Friday in the Denver Post, which said an unidentified source, reportedly "close to the WAC," believed if expansion doesn't come soon, the five-year-old could die of its own doldrums.

The source told the paper another effort would be made at the conference meeting in June to expand and revamp the league. "If something isn't done soon," the paper quoted, "the league could fold up and we'll start all over again with a new one."

If the promised pressure—expected to come from conference officials ranking below the governing president's council—is successful, the league probably will have two new teams and be missing an old one, the report said.

The source told the paper the new proposal, as set up now, would include current WAC members Wyoming, New Mexico, Arizona State, and Arizona, Colorado State, Texas Western, Utah, and Utah State, then would be invited to join. BYU, the only WAC member school that is not state-supported, would be dropped.

Abduction Suspect Arrested

A Spanish Fork, Utah man was expected to be brought back to Provo early this week to face a charge of second-degree kidnapping in connection with the abduction of two BYU co-eds.

Authorities said extradition proceedings on James Winkle, 27, were being conducted and detectives were expected to bring him back shortly. He was arrested in Los Angeles after local police put out an alert.

Winkle is charged in connection with the kidnapping of two BYU co-eds—Leslie Campbell and Candace Spendlove—some ten days ago. Officers said Winkle apparently forced the girls to go on a seven-hour ride throughout much of eastern and northern Utah at gunpoint.

Both girls were released unharmed and after relating their story to police, Winkle was charged with the abduction.

Police said attempts to apprehend Winkle at his home south of Provo failed as he apparently heard reports of the complaint.

Utah County Sheriff's deputies said Winkle is a former patient of the Utah State Hospital in Provo and has been arrested twice previously on separate charges.

Winkle will be arraigned in Provo City Court on his return, authorities said.

Summer In Mexico To Register Now

Applications are now being accepted for the BYU Summer Residence Program in Mexico.

Students who take advantage of this program will spend Summer Session 1967 in Mexico City, living with the Mexican people in their own homes and studying their culture and customs. Classes to be offered include archaeology and anthropology, history of Latin America, political science, Spanish and religion.

The dates of the program are June 16 to August 12. Students will travel from Provo to Mexico City by bus, visiting spots of interest on the way. The return trip to Salt Lake City will be by air. Cost per student, as estimated by BYU Travel Studies, will be about $500. The same standards of personal conduct that apply to BYU students at Provo will be expected on the trip.

The program will be under the direction of Lyman S. Shreeve, former President of the Uruguayan Mission. Other faculty members include Dr. George M. Addy from BYU Language Dept., Dr. Ross T. Christensen, chairman of the BYU Dept. of Anthropology and Archaeology, and resident faculty in Mexico City.

Applications and further information may be obtained at the Language Dept. office, 327 David O. McKay Bldg., or the Travel Study office, 292 Herald R. Clark Bldg.
